

Bandera Bermuda is one of West Coast Turf's newest and most versatile drought tolerant bermudas.

It is the most aggressive growing variety we have yet experienced. Its great wear and traffic tolerance, excellent recoverability, versatility in mowing heights, great density and upright growth habit along with great cold tolerance (exceeding Tift 94 and Tifway II) make it an ideal choice for sports fields, golf courses and landscapes.

Features and Benefits

Color

- Bluish dark green—Fall and Spring color similar to Tifway II, but darker than Tifway 419

Texture

- Medium blade thickness and density—similar to Tifway II

Performance

- Very aggressive growth habit, stolons grow in quicker than any other bermuda we have yet managed
- Rapid growth and recovery keeps up with heaviest and most demanding turf applications
- Better wear tolerance than Tifway 419 and better recovery than Tifgreen 328
- Great winter color and long growing season
- Upright growth allows for higher mowing height for rough 2-3" +, but density allows for tighter ½-1" height of cut as well
- Density allows a golf ball to "sit up" in rough
- Very drought resistant
- Vast water savings over cool season grasses
- Full sun preferred, but also exhibits decent shade tolerance

Maintenance

- Moderate level of maintenance required
- Fall overseeding may be required in cold weather climates if year-round green is desired

Mowing

- ½" to 3+"
- Power reel or rotary mower
